Dear brother Henderson:

I am pleased to accept your invitation to serve as a spokesperson for the Golf Classic/Tournament that you and your committee are coordinating on behalf of the J. S. Winston Sound Doctrine Foundation, scheduled for Friday, May 12, 2006. I wholeheartedly support the mission and goals of the Foundation and totally recommend this noble cause without reservation. I not only support and recommend it, I urge all golfers to participate in this most meaningful activity. I also urge all persons contacted about this effort to please respond.

It is well-known that great things for the kingdom are happening at Southwestern Christian College. And among these things is the building of housing facilities for its constantly increasing student body. Thus, the funds raised in this Golf Classic will be used in the facilitating of these student needs. And I am very happy to be an integral part of contributing to the future of Southwestern Christian College and its students by my ardent support of this fund-raising activity.

Thanks to all for your anticipated donation to this great cause.

Sincerely,

Jack Evans, President

Dear Golfer and/or Supporter:

We need you! The students of Southwestern Christian College are depending on you. To a great degree, their future depends on you.

Before I continue, let me be straightforward: I don't play golf at all, unless you count those few times I spent on a miniature golf course. I do appreciate the game, and I often watch it on television, especially when there are major tournaments and most especially when America's new sports hero, Tiger Woods, is playing.

But be assured that I've always cared about education and the development of talented young people to become leaders in this county. That is something Southwestern Christian College has been devoted to for years even though it constantly has struggled with under-funding and often inadequate facilities.

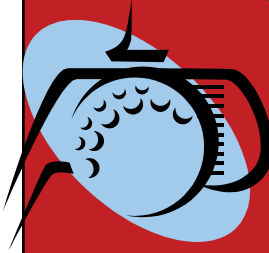

That's why I am urging you, your colleagues and friends to participate in the J. S. Winston Sound Doctrine Foundation Scholarship Golf Classic, which has been organized to help raise money for construction of much needed new student housing on campus, as well as provide more funding for scholarships.

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Bob Ray Sanders
